

DOLPHIN MESSAGE: INTENTION AND MANIFESTATION

The Dolphins are asking us to intend and select our dreams from the place of our hearts. The Dolphins are telling us that the power of focus combined with the power of intention, is the energy that sets dreams in motion. The energy of the universe that creates manifestation on the Earth plane is encouraging you to dream big and to hold dear in your hearts the dreams that you desire. The Dolphins are asking us to look at the energy of focus and clarity and know that the strength of our desires, regarding our wishes is a large part of the way we manifest in our physical lives. They are asking you to be as clear and as focused as possible in claiming your desires, creating them, and living them.

They are going to get a bit scientific now as they talk about the molecules of emotion. The Dolphins are explaining to me that a desire or intention is set in motion when your receptor molecules work together with rhythmic vibrating energies that created dance between the intention and the response to the intention. This is a dance if you will, of courtship between our molecules. At the core of what we would consider to be biochemistry we attract and pull to us those things which we desire. In order to do this, there are molecular receptors that shape themselves to attract and lock in the things that are vibrationally compatible to them. It is essential to let the Universe know what you want, rather than confuse them by focusing on what you don't want by being vague or incomplete with your thought forms and your intentional requests. The Dolphins are clearly telling us that when we fill our hearts with the energy of intention and the energy of love, molecular receptors within our body chemically respond to inform specific shaped designs that are attracted to us and bring them to you through the actual essence of your intention and the essence of love. Likewise as we sometimes live within the confines of duality, when you are filled with the energy of anger, or disease, or despair, the receptors shape themselves to attract and bring that into you as well.

A good example of this particular methodology of explaining creation and manifestation is Dr. Emoto's work with the energy and consciousness of water. Dr. Emoto has photographed and documented the crystalline structure of water. Based on the energy that is presented to water, is how water changes its form. He has proven that water is conscious and changes its molecular form based on the actual consciousness around it. When you think loving thoughts near water, water forms beautiful crystalline sacred geometry within the molecules and when you think thoughts of anger or negativity or fear the water collapses and becomes dark and muddied in its molecular form.

Puddah is coming in and saying that actual studies have been done at Princeton University with experiments that have been designed to measure the impact of your desires and intentions to the world. She says that when a strong intention or desire is sent out by an individual through their thoughts and feelings, there is a measurable influence on the outcome of their manifestation. There have also been many double blind studies done with prayer, and prayer is intention. She says creation is not random, and that the energy is recorded and very organized. She says it would greatly soothe the human living in a physical world to create from their hearts and from a desired place of focus and personal power. She asks you to experiment with deliberate focus and desire behind your every single intention. Please understand that the more powerfully you send out strong waves of energy carrying your desires and prayers, the more powerfully you can expect the influence to be that manifests what comes back to you.

Dolphins are experts in understanding the molecular flow of energy as it is magnetically attracted to create that which we desire. They ask you to call upon them often to be on the receiving end of this energy flow, knowing that the dolphin energy will come to you to amplify, magnify and assist the flow of life that comes to you through your intention and desires. This calling out from the human being creates a response process that accesses the magic of creation that the super sentient Dolphin Beings have to offer us. Remember, it only works if you're careful to hold those things in your mind and heart that are in alignment with your truth and your higher self. The Dolphins invite you to use this process to manifest when you genuinely wish to create for yourself while bringing more joy into your personal lives.

A final note from Master Puddah is to remind us that we are now in the third month of the three-month new template that is being created now for humans. The Pleiadian message that came to us on May 2 is in effect and we still have July to work with our Life Review while we are in the physical body. NOW is the time to think, feel and be Loving! Walk away from your fears and create again without chaos, fear and disease now. If you do not like what you are creating, choose again! Every one of us now has the opportunity to live in the no fear - all love zone. Puddah encourages all of you to use this time of the life review to take inventory on your joy and current state of well-being. Use your power to open and access the portal of your heart and connect to Mother Earth. Connect to the Universe as you love yourself enough to go outside and stand on Mother Earth. Open your heart and connect to the beauty of Father Sun. Go to your Sacred Sites and celebrate life with your family and your friends. This is your time you have waited and prepared for in many lives. This is the time to allow yourself the energy of love and celebrate the victory of what it is like to be a human in form on planet Earth during this momentous time of 2012.

Know that love and peace is yours to claim each and every day!

Let us Be Love together!

Namaste my Creator Friends!
