ANDARA CRYSTALS

Andaras are Master Crystals of Light, Beauty, Healing, and Perfection.

These are authentic monatomic Andara Crystals. Monatomic means that they are comprised of one element = primal matter. They originate from the Andarian Star System and their name translates to mean "Truth". They encompass galactic and cosmic frequencies that are superior vibrationally. Andaras can actually magnify the power of other crystals. They have their own energy field that is vibrationally beyond duality. They can strengthen the human energy field.

ANDARA CRYSTAL STORY

Authentic Andara Crystals are found ONLY in two locations in the world: The Sierra's near Mount Shasta in Northern California and in South Africa. They were first found in the United States in Feb of 1967 by Lady Nellie, a 90 year old Choctaw Medicine woman. All of our Andara crystals are authentic and come from her property.

ANDARA CRYSTAL INFORMATION

They naturally charge in the Sun.

As a gem they are rated at hardness #9 (of 10).

Monatomic Andara Crystals positively affect the energy patterns that move through the body's meridians. Andara crystals initiate a paramagnetic balance and harmony via a positive-charged wave that restores and cleanses.

The individual is blessed with greater creativity, enhanced mind and body coordination, improved learning ability and reduction of stress.

Andara crystals create a calmness and serenity, assist in clearing the mind chatter, and help you create a more focused thought process. As you become more focused, the transformational process of energy and intention into matter is accentuated. Therefore the time and conscious effort required to manifest your intentions into the physical world is reduced in their process.

Andara crystals are heliocentric and monatomic. When a person connects and gazes into the crystals, an energy spiral is created that is a double vortex. The super-conductive energy field creates a very large kinetic potential. This energy field works differently than regular crystals such as quartz, where one can amplify their intentions through the crystal. With Andara's one inserts their intention into the kinetic field created by the crystals, and the ENTIRE field moves in response to the intention or desire.

Many who have worked with the effects of the Monatomic Andara crystals experience dramatically expanded sensory perception and access to information beyond normal 3rd Dimensional channels. Intuition expands, telepathic connections are increased, and your connection to your Divine Higher Self is strengthened.

Many experience the release of unwanted energies which allows for a unique and deep healing experience.

Over time, many are experiencing a "youthing" energy that offers restoration energy to the physical body.

Monatomic Andara Crystals offer a Soul enhancing experience that works on all levels; physical, emotional and spiritual. As your connection to your Divine true Self is strengthened, the feeling of joy, harmony and Universal Oneness can return and anchor.

They are building blocks of ancient civilizations, including: Lemuria, Atlantis, Solomon's Temple and the Arc of the Covenant, and in the pyramids and chambers in Egypt.
